Dear Michael:

We wanted to take a moment and write you a thank you letter for all the fantastic work you have done for our company over the last year. When we first met, my company was just getting started and my current web site really needed some work.

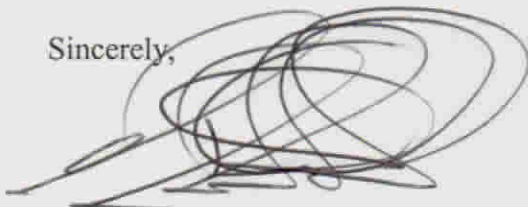

We were really impressed with your ability to listen to our needs, even when we weren't entirely sure what they were, and translate that into an incredible Internet marketing strategy and web site! The web site is clean and easy to navigate. When you combine the great site with fantastic copy we really have a world class web site.

We were equally pleased with your marketing skills. Your expertise has helped us develop more traffic to our site, increase the response rates and make a greater impact on our overall marketing efforts. Our web site represents one of our key marketing tools and your expertise has helped that tool be a winning strategy for us.

Finally, we appreciate your professionalism and service. You always get changes and updates made promptly. In addition, the quarterly meetings we have with all of your fantastic suggestions and improvements that help us tweak and improve our strategy is really awesome.

We would highly recommend and endorse you to anyone that is in need of new and creative methods of making their business grow through Internet marketing. We look forward in working with you for many years to come as our business continues to grow.

Sincerely,

Greg Conyers
